COMMUNITY SERVICES

Diploma of Community Services will develop skills in community services, case management and crisis enabling the trainee to manage, coordinate and deliver person-centred services to individuals, groups and communities.

We aim to equip our graduates with the necessary skills and knowledge to enable them to successfully satisfy the demands of the workplace.

COURSE INFORMATION

Welcome to a world where your passion for helping others transforms into a fulfilling career. The Diploma of Community Services (CHC52021) offers a comprehensive pathway for individuals eager to make a tangible impact on society. The diploma will enable workers to support people to make changes in their lives to improve personal and social wellbeing and may also have responsibility for the supervision of other workers and volunteers. They may also undertake case management and program coordination.

Our diploma program delves deep into the core aspects of community services. The program has been designed to meet the requirements of the Australian Community Workers Association (ACWA), is led by seasoned educators and industry experts, meaning adhere to the latest industry standards and practices. Through real-life case studies and hands-on exercises, students will be equipped with the skills needed to thrive in diverse community service roles.
